

The Youth Manifest

This manifest belongs to:

“Young people look at the world from a different perspective than adults. Their voices are important. We listen to the views, opinions and questions of children and teenagers and take them seriously.”

1. We let young people tell their stories

2. We listen thoroughly

3. We pose serious questions

4. We don't interrupt

5. We consider the views and opinions of children when decisions are made
